

Pure FlashArray//m Upgrade Assurance Promotion Terms and Conditions

1. To be eligible to participate in the Pure FlashArray//m Upgrade Assurance Promotion (“Upgrade Promotion”), you must meet the Upgrade Promotion requirements as specified below.
2. You must purchase a FA-400 series array from Pure Storage or its authorized reseller during the period between February 1, 2015 and the date of general availability of the FlashArray//m (“Upgrade Eligible Array”).
3. You may purchase a 10TB, 20TB or 40TB of additional capacity for the Upgrade Eligible Array (“Additional Capacity”) from Pure Storage or its authorized reseller thirty (30) days after FlashArray//m is generally available until January 31st, 2016 (“Upgrade Period”).
4. After You purchase Additional Capacity during the Upgrade Period, Pure Storage will provide the Additional Capacity in the applicable FlashArray//m chassis and include the NVRAM modules, the controllers and the FA-400-to FlashArray//m NDU kit at no cost, and You will return the FA-400 series controllers to Pure Storage within ninety (90) days or receipt of the FlashArray//m, and all returned products and components shall become the property of Pure.
5. You may purchase standard maintenance and support for any Additional Capacity purchased that is coterminous with any maintenance and support purchased for the Upgrade Eligible Array.
6. You may also purchase Additional Capacity for Upgrade Eligible Arrays now (“Upgrade Assurance Capacity Plus Promotion”), prior to the date the FlashArray//m is generally available and Pure Storage will provide four 512GB SSD at no charge. Actual raw capacity gain will vary depending upon current FlashArray configuration.
7. Your use of the FlashArray//m is subject to Pure’s applicable end user license agreement, the form of which is available at http://www.purestorage.com/agreements/Pure\_enduser\_agreement.pdf.